

Bold graphic artwork and enticing die-cuts make for a bedtime read-aloud as infectious and irresistible as a . . . well, you know! Sean gave a YAWN While sitting on his mat. Guess who he gave it to? A scruffy, fluffy . . . You'll need to turn the page to find out who is next to be overcome with a yawn in this fun and ingenious board book, although the rhyming text will offer some clues! One creature is purring, another pecking, one drifting around its bowl, another resting from a dig in the dirt. And there are others, too--all of whom can't wait to put on their pajamas and head off to bed!

We don't have evidence that can point us to the exact purpose of yawning. But there are several theories.

Almost all animals yawn, from humans on down to lizards. It's something we do every day, starting before we're even born (babies yawn in utero). We do it when . . . Although yawning is a commonly witnessed human behavior, yet it has not been taught in much detail in medical schools because, until the date, no particular.

People tend to write off the occasional yawn as just being tired, but your yawns might be trying to tell you more. According to some very attentive researchers, human beings tend to yawn about eight times per day. That number is probably larger if the day is spent with other.
